Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Some of you may have wondered why I have been “bowing” at the altar during the sacred moments at Mass instead of the usual genuflecting. This is due to “Arthur’s ritis” and knee problems that have crept up with age. I recently had a synvisc shot which is like a “lube job” for the knee. All this is to prolong the need for knee replacement surgery. I wish I could genuflect more often, but for now bowing will have to do. I remember what Rocky was told back in the 1970s... “You got the heart kid, but not the tools!”

Please mark your calendars for October 4th for the blessing of animals on our back field. This is the Feast of St. Francis and we are having a special event beginning at 6:00 p.m.

– Peace, Father David
